CRCC and Digitec Interactive won a coveted Brandon Hall Group silver award for excellence in the Best Use of Section 508 Requirements for Training Programs category. CRCC e-UNIVERSITY provides a flexible learning portal for rehabilitation counselors to maintain their CRC certification. Digitec Interactive, a leader in innovative learning technology and learning experience design, provides the platform for CRCC e-UNIVERSITY.

The award entries were evaluated by a panel of veteran, independent senior industry experts, Brandon Hall Group analysts and executives based upon the following criteria: fit the need, design of the program, functionality, innovation, and overall measurable benefits.

"CRCC's mission is to promote quality rehabilitation counseling services for people with disabilities through the certification of rehabilitation counselors," said Susan Zahn, PhD, CRCC e-UNIVERSITY e-Learning Manager. "CRCC e-UNIVERSITY allows us to reach rehabilitation counselors who might not otherwise have easy access to continuing education on rehabilitation counseling. Digitec Interactive has been a very responsive partner. In just two years, over 5,000 rehabilitation counseling professionals have used the platform for their continuing education."

"Our mission is to transform learning and change lives," said Digitec Interactive president Jack McGrath. "We're extremely proud to receive this award, but even more proud to partner with CRCC on such a worthwhile initiative."
